MEDICINAL.

Sympathy may help a wounded heart but it won't heal a wounded limb.

That fact is so obvious that you wonder why any one can offer "sympathy" as the chief feature of treatment for the delicate diseases of women. Yet women ere invited to "write to a woman who can sympathize with woman," and the theme of their correspondence is to be the delicate, difficult and dangerous diseases which undermine a woman's health and strength. It is true that such afters are combined with an offer of medical advice." But medical advice only be given by a competent phycian, and no mention is made in such ters of a physician's or doctor's advice. It is not offered because it cannot be given. The offer is not being made by qualified physician.
The offer of free consultation by letter,

The offer of free consultation by letter, made to ailing women by Doctor R. V. Pierce, has behind it a physician's ability. Dr. Pierce is consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Associated with Dr. Pierce is a staff of nearly a score of physicians, each man a specialist. In a practice of over thirty years Dr. Pierce and his staff have treated successfully more than half a million women, who have been cured of debilitating drains, inflammations, ulcerations and female troubles. MRS. TOM THUMB A COUNTESS. The most popular passenger on the steamship Astoria, of the Auchor Line, which arrived at New York on Monday from Glagow, was a little old lady, who some years ago was the delight and wender of the boys and girls of America, and would be now if she would only show herse f occasionally.

Mrs. Tom Thumb was the passenger, a tr fle less than three feet high, a little younger then sixty, but as sweet faced and good tempered as she was when P. T. Barnum was her manager, and when-youngsters now bearded and with youngeters of their own flocked to see

"Such a dear heart she bas, if it is a little one," said a stewardess. "I be-lieve she's glad she was born little just for the pleasure the sight of her gives the children. The little folks on the ship stared at her all the way over. They believed she was the wife of Hop o' My Thumb, the little fellow in the fairy tales.

"And the candies and cakes she had for the babies! They say she's very rich, and I think it's true from the size of the tips she gave. She wasn't a bit seasick, and she nursed some that were. You should see her lugging around children bigger than herself. They thought she was a child too."

The famous little woman is now the wife of Count Magri, a midget, who was her first sweehear! In the early show days she was Miss Bump, of Middle boro', Mass., an attractive and well educated midget, who exhibited at Barnum's as Lavinia Warren.

The epaulets, the fierce military hat, and the sharp eword of General Thumb won the heart of Miss Bump from houghts of the Count. She and the general were married in Grace Church. New York, on February 10, 1863, while the Count went abroad disconsolate to orget his grief.

On the death of Tom Thumb, Count Magri, a faithful soul, renewed his suit, and the widow Thumb became his wife. Theirs has been a happy life. They walked down the gangplank of the Astoria yesterday arm-in-arm, as m lingly as a bridal pair.

Tue American dwarf record has been broken since they went into the bus ness. General Tom Thumb would not look very small to-day when the mark et value of a dwarf is based on a stand ard nearly a foot lower than the height of the general. In dwarfs, as in every thing else, there has been a change in ideals.

The Count and Countess went by Fall River Line boat last night en route for Middleboro,' where Miss Bump was They are a well-to-do family, social leaders of the place. The Coun tese has many distant relatives there, none of them abnormally small.

"The dwarfs these days are smaller than in my time," the Counters sighed, "but I think there is such a thing as baving dwarfs that are too small."

The Countess did not say so, but probably she referred to the ill health It artificially digests the food and aids Nature in strengthening and reconstructing the exhausted digestive organs. It is the latest discovered digestive organs and tender of the latest discovered digestive organs.
